

MJ Holding Company LLC Named Supply & Demand Chain Executive's 2021 Top Supply Chain Project

Company receives recognition for their initiative to combine multiple inventory locations into a single new warehouse that can accommodate all on-hand inventory

Supply & Demand Chain Executive, the only publication covering the entire global supply chain, has selected MJ Holding, the largest North American distributor of trading cards, related trading card supplies, collectibles, toys, and hot trend items as a recipient of the Top Supply Chain Projects Award for 2021.

The Top Supply Chain Projects (formerly known as SDCE 100) spotlights successful and innovative transformation projects that deliver bottom-line value to small, medium and large enterprises across a range of supply chain functions. These projects show how supply chain solutions and service providers help their customers and clients achieve supply chain excellence and prepare their supply chains for success.

“The supply chain industry has been challenged with a host of supply chain disruptions over the last year. Yet, the winners on this list continued to re-tool and innovate,” says Marina Mayer, editor for Supply & Demand Chain Executive and Food Logistics. “Whether it be moving a customer to a cloud-based solution or implementing a more sustainable shipping option, these top supply chain projects reflect the supply chain industry’s strength and resilience to overcome disruptions and work better, smarter and more efficiently in the years ahead.”

Over the past several years, MJ Holding has seen their retail distribution footprint across the United States and Canada explode. The company received recognition for their initiative to combine multiple inventory locations into a single new warehouse that can accommodate all on-hand inventory. The company partnered with Alpine Supply Chain Solutions and Conveyor Solutions, Inc. (CSI) - a Systems in Motion Company - to design the new facility and processes. In the end, a new layout and picking process meant that MJ Holding can now pick the equivalent order volume in just 57% of the original time.

According to MJ Holding COO, Mark Zabloudil, “We’ve always prided ourselves in providing superior customer service, and the work we completed with Alpine and CSI positions us to continue doing so well into the future. It’s been an incredibly challenging year for the retail industry, and we’re truly honored to receive this commendation.”
